

National Alliance BULLETIN

POST OFFICE BOX 172 • LAUREL BLOOMERY • TN 37680 • USA

November 2016

WHY THEY WANT TO DISARM YOU

by Dr. William L. Pierce and the editors of National Vanguard

THERE IS HARDLY AN ISSUE which more sharply divides White Americans than "gun control." There is hardly a more significant difference than that which exists between the people who want gun control and those who don't. For there is a great temperamental and ideological divide between those who believe in self-defense and those who believe in surrendering and begging for mercy.

Except for a relatively small minority of very sick persons who actually relish the idea of surrender and fantasize about being vic-

New "Why They Want to Disarm You" Flier Now Available

A new, updated National Alliance flier on the topic of "gun control" is now available from the National Office for purchase or download. The purchase cost is $24 per 100. Write to the National Office for pricing on quantities of 1,000 or more.

This powerful, inexpensive flier is an updated version of the very successful flier on the same topic created by Dr. Pierce and Kevin Strom in the 1990s. It is ideal for distribution at gun shows, target shooting events, and anyplace where gun owners and Second Amendment advocates gather.

As National Vanguard writer John I. Johnson said in his article "Racializing the Gun Right":

"An Internet commenter recently stated: 'Racializing the Gun Right wouldn't be difficult. Anti-racism signaling is a palliative gun-owning boomers use to gloss over the fact that gun store and gun show staff and customers are almost all White. Furthermore, they all know politicians couldn't care less about the fact that Tyrone can buy a full auto AK on the street while Robert has to go through the two week waiting period and background check to buy a Ruger 10/22. Gun control needs to be aggressively framed as White disarmament.'

"William Pierce's The Turner Diaries, a very radical novel, became an underground best-seller despite being systematically blocked from all commercial publication and trade distribution channels. A substantial number of copies were sold at gun shows, though I don't know the proportion. So gun owners were much more open to permitting (by that I mean not rigidly policing and censoring) diverse views than conservatives, who not only would never advertise, much less permit the sale of such a book — they even refused to carry paid ads for, or review, a book as mild as The Dispossessed Majority."

An America in which gun and ammunition sales go up dramatically, not only with each new “gun control” pronouncement from Washington, but also with each new Soros-inspired “Black Lives Matter” riot, is an America in which millions of gun owners are now ready for the Alliance’s uncompromising racial message. Please do your part to spread this powerful message far and wide.

As with other National Alliance fliers, ads, and other recruiting materials, you can download a high-resolution PDF version of this flier and print any quantity you like, either at a local print shop or on your own home printer. The url for download is:

<http://natall.com/fliers>

The size of the flier is 8.5 x 11 inches and it is designed to be folded as a C-type trifold.

Alliance Membership Surveys

As this issue of our BULLETIN goes to the printer, the National Office has only received back about 20 per cent. of the completed National Alliance Membership Surveys that were included with the mailing of last month’s BULLETIN. That is a disappointing percentage, but not entirely unexpected. This indicates to us who are our organization’s most cooperative members and supporters, responding to a simple request. More completed surveys will trickle in during December. If anyone has misplaced his paper survey form, we will be happy to send a replacement. Just let us know. We are not putting this blank form on the Internet; it is mailed only to our members and supporters in good standing — and to a very small handful of important friends of the National Alliance and leaders of compatible organizations, in a reciprocal exchange for their periodicals.

Of those members whose surveys have been filled out and returned we have a much better understanding of their backgrounds: education; languages other than English; work experience; job skills; outside interests and hobbies; travel experience; military experience; religion, if any; etc. We also now know whether these members want to work with other members in their areas. We also know the sorts of Alliance activities in which they are willing to participate. Some will only want to pay dues — which is a significant help in itself. Some give a clear indication that they want to participate more fully in our work — and there is so much work that cannot be undertaken without the help of these activist-minded supporters.

Report From the Mountain: Hard Work Brings Rewards

It’s been another busy month on The Land. We’ve had setbacks, as usual, but we’ve also had successes. The sawmill we had made a tentative deal with backed out on us a few days before we began selectively cutting some timber. We have another company who specializes in timber export coming up to look at our trees before the end of this month.

One problem we’ve run into is hunting season. Pretty much everybody is a hunter up here, and so am I. Antlered deer bow season, non-antlered, then rifle season which runs until December 3rd. Plus things generally move at a much slower pace in the mountains — which I’ve come to call “mountain time.” Many of the people in these parts are simply not in a hurry, in contrast to so those of us who have spent most of our lives in and around cities. I was frustrated by mountain time when I first arrived here, but have now adapted to it.

We've used the fine STIHL magnum chain saw Will donated, our tractor, and a borrowed log splitter to cut and split several cords of semi-cured, fallen, or dead-on-the-stump, high-BTU black locust trees for the farmhouse wood stove. Mold is a problem here during the cold months, and keeping our houses warm is a preventive safeguard.

We're becoming expert at felling and processing our own trees for fuel. We've nearly finished the propane heating system in our gate house that Chairman Williams had almost completed last December. (Progress was temporarily halted when our coup-plotting, hostile neighbors had him falsely arrested, then started squatting in the residence illegally — without maintaining it, setting us back even further.)

October 20-22 was a limited (two does per hunter) antlerless season; We took a total of four. We've also been reducing the number of young "management" bucks on the property to increase the chances of genetically superior bucks breeding with our best females. This is a "best practices" game management strategy, just as our selective cutting of timber in certain areas is good timber management that improves our forest.

Speaking of hunting and a mountain lifestyle, Laura Lee and I celebrated Thanksgiving this year with a meal that came entirely from The Land. Deer roast and potatoes, peppers, corn, and squash from our garden — and honey from our bees also. Our bounty will be even bigger next year! Earlier this month we canned over 100 quarts (roughly a pound each) of ground venison taken from The Land.

Nighttime intruder

Earlier in the month, one of our worst setbacks hit when most of our hens were killed by predators. We still have our rooster. We have secured the henhouse, and will replace the hens. It took a while, but we discovered the culprit using one of our donated motion-activated game cameras and some bait to lure the chicken-killer from the shadows. A large bobcat eventually triggered the camera.

I had a boss once whose favorite saying was, "a business with no sign, is a sign of no business." The NA's "signs" these days are our online magazine, nationalvanguard.org, our main Web site, natall.com, the growing whitebiocentrism.com forum, the National Vanguard Alliance YouTube channel, our 24/7 National Alliance radio network, and, of course, our weekly American Dissident Voices broadcasts. Those are all valuable recruiting "signs" which steer our people to us. But our most valuable recruiting asset is you members and supporters. Handing out our new gun control flier at gun shows, in gun store parking lots, etc., for example, or giving our excellent Building a New White World: What is the National Alliance? booklet to prospective members, are good ways to reach the Whites we need to reach.

Our Iowa member J.M. hands out copies of our new flier while wearing his Life Rune badge.

I would like to challenge each member to engage in some sort of creative activism during December, then inform Chairman Williams of it. That's how we learn from one another and grow.
— David Pringle, Chief of Staff, West Virginia campus

Correspondence

Dear National Alliance: I was trying to contact the National Alliance on the Internet in the Bronx public library and was told by the librarian that there is a software filter that blocks the Alliance Web site (censorship pure and simple!) because the Alliance is a "hate" organization. Then I was given a phone number for the Anti-Defamation League, the Jewish organization that provides the filter. I was eventually able to find you on a computer the Jews do not control. I used to attend New York Metro NA Local Unit meeting during the mid-1990s. — M.S., New York

Dear Chairman Williams: In order to join a part of my strength to the Alliance's a donation above my usual monthly pledge is enclosed for you to use as you see fit. I continue to take advantage of opportunities presented to hand out NA business cards and the Building A New White World booklet to thoughtful Whites. A new tool I've come up with to provoke conversation is our Life Rune symbol placed in a plastic, clip-on badge holder. People ask me about it and I'm glad to oblige their curiosity with information about the National Alliance. I have also placed ads on the Craigslist Web site under "Groups" with the BANWW booklet cover pictured and with Cosmotheism as the topic headline. Some "movement" types have recognized it and contacted me, but so far don't seem very interested beyond emailing. I'll keep running the ad until it works for us. My best regards, — J.M., Iowa

Dear Chairman Williams: I thought I'd expand on the membership survey and furnish more information that might interest you. There are several reasons I choose to remain a supporter and not a member. My focus has been on [...] which, incidentally overlaps the mission of the Alliance. [It is with that priority] that I feel I must devote most of my time, energy, and money. While I admire the tireless efforts of you, Kevin, and a few others, one thing that really makes me think twice about being a member is the disproportionate number of spiteful and destructive people that seem to be attracted to the racial nationalist movement. God knows you are all too familiar with that. It's something I've never understood. I've asked myself: Can the National Alliance possibly survive with so many two-legged boll weevils infesting it and trying to tear it down?... There is a part of me also, I must admit, that's a coward and a do-nothing. In the back of my mind I'm a bit concerned about getting kicked out of my apartment and fired from my job if my name came to the attention of a dirty tricks outfit like the SPLC. However, within a year I hope to buy a cabin upstate, move out of the city, and never worry about stuff like that again.

Finally, the stupidity and degradation of the vast majority of White people in this country is very depressing...I know many decent and fairly intelligent Whites -- the type who support Trump -- but I can't say I know a single one of them who would be receptive to the ideology of the National Alliance. Start talking with them about the real issues, especially Jewish control of America, and, as you well know, they inwardly panic as they have been conditioned to do. Having said that, however, I am interested in meeting any trusted Alliance members and supporters in my area, which is why I indicated that you may give them my contact information... Best regards, — J.M., New York

Chairman Williams responds: J.M. of Iowa, I'm always impressed with your creativity in finding new ways of reaching the public with the Alliance's message. In the old days, members and National Alliance Local Units competed to outdo one another with local recruiting and fund-raising projects, and it was members like you who took the lead that others would then follow, telling themselves, "we can do that!"

J.M. in New York, you express the fears, largely irrational, of many Whites who are conditioned to avoid anything that advocates for the interests of the White majority. It sounds to me like you are working to overcome your admitted moral cowardice by getting out of the deracinated urban environment to take control of your life. It begins with individuals like yourself, deliberately taking charge, overcoming recognized limitations. Doing that is easier for some than for others. Your observations about otherwise good Whites who support Donald Trump not responding favorably to our uncompromising, hard-line program of race preservation and advancement is not unique to you; We are all familiar with the type. Keep "throwing bait!" You are right and they are wrong. Their nation is a mess and race is at the root of it all whether they want to admit that or not. It is Whites who won the presidency for Trump, but the "clever" Trump denies his race and is forced to disavow anything pro-White as politicians believe they must in this day and age. I will put you in touch with another trusted, like-minded supporter in your area. This should reduce your feelings of isolation. Alliance-building is a slow, careful process.

Chairman Williams: With reference to John McLaughlin — I think this buzzard puke was also the "mastermind" of something called the "Aryan Book Center," which was just him selling irrelevant items out of the boxcar or Burger King dumpster he calls home. His actions and those of the Wicked Witch of West Virginia, Corse, mimic a Jewish mode of thought: If one doesn't get one's way, ruin it for everyone else. McLaughlin should wear a yarmulke on his head, and a black one at that. — R.W., Ohio

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Following the Law and Weathering the Storms

We hope that by the end of 2016 the remaining court actions filed against our organization and me will finally be resolved in our favor. We have withstood multiple and extremely vicious legal campaigns to destroy the Alliance since we began rebuilding our organization. Many never thought we could endure this long, but we continue to score victories because we are in the right and our "lawfare" opponents are in the wrong. We will continue to move forward.

No sooner had I written the "Legal Update" section in the October BULLETIN and delivered it all to our printer last month than I received a weekend call from our West Virginia attorney, informing me that I had been ordered to appear at an emergency hearing on 2 November, accused of "witness tampering," a possible felony. A second pre-trial hearing was scheduled for that same day in the Pocahontas Circuit Court for the civil suit that had been filed against me and the National Alliance back in March by Michael Oljaca. (Our supporters may protect a person who admitted it was a homicide, and Williams' on going plans to kill me still.. He stated he knew nothing about all this matter. I asked Simmons to move forward on all the felonies and misdemeanors, and warrants & arrests on many crimes by Williams and Pringle (we have been told by a high official that his office is stone walling, obstructing on purpose. [on audio]) & showed him my own Motion for a hearing on revocation of Williams' bond I would initiate in the Courts and force the issue; was Prosecutor Eugene Simmons stating to me "well, why don't you just shoot and kill those bastards, and this would be done with... I would".

I do not believe the above instructions from PA Simmons to me is rational, sound or sane advice, let alone bearing any resemblance to professionalism. When it is fully in their power since Oct 2015 to put an end to all of this. None of the other crimes against many people would have occurred if they had properly charged Williams with what the crimes really were on the day he tried to kill me, and charged it for what is really of... county and West Virginia by removing violent criminals and putting them in jail so their reign of terror and crimes is put to an end. To which this Prosecuting Attorney's office has violated WV code, as well as commits public services fraud, and endangerment to us all. As well as violations of several codes having to do w/ victims and witnesses of crimes. [in order for PA Simmons to meet with me in his office he had to be woken from his daily naps he takes down stairs in the basement of the court house, in a room marked "Assistant Prosecuting Attorney". He then goes to a rest room and washes his face to wake himself up, and arrives to the meeting w/ water still running down his face. This is easily confirmed as anyone can "stake out" the hall way and confirm this (they also have security cameras). We have, several times. We have on audio by 2 officials this is what he does most days, as well as them telling us that he is corrupt, lazy and senile, and us being told that most days he naps or wanders around the court house not knowing where he is. As well he is a threat to drivers on the roads, as one time he was driving on the wrong side of the road and almost hit us and we had to drive off the road almost into a ditch to avoid being hit by him slumped over in his white Mercedes convertible w/ red interior, He seemed to not even notice our truck was there facing a head on collision].

I Garland DeCourcy am the victim in this cited case, and of many other felonies and misdemeanors done against me and on going by William white Williams, II; and done on his behalf and to his personal benefit by Defendant Williams' personal hired right hand man David Martin Pringle, fellow gang member, and domestic terrorist.

Part of Garland Corse's incoherent 77-page ex parte letter to the judge remember that it was Mr. Oljaca who had been the boyfriend of Garland Corse and who had squatted in our National Alliance staff residence that is now occupied by David Pringle and his fiancée Laura Lee. Both Oljaca and Corse were employed by John McLaughlin after I had terminated all three of them for insubordination and conspiring against the best interests of the Alliance.) It was announced by Oljaca's attorney at that second hearing that his client no longer wanted to pursue his civil suit — so that has now been officially dropped.

The Circuit Court's panic over possible "witness tampering" on my part was due to Garland Corse's writing directly to the 11th West Virginia Judicial Circuit judge in my appeal of the assault case brought by Corse in the lower local Magistrate court. Corse's improper ex parte contact with the judge assigned to hear my 15 December appeal was 77 rambling, conspiracy-filled pages long — typical for Corse — and began with this (unedited):

This is an urgent matter for my and others safety and protections of our lives. I have been told I have to give you this information for you to help me and protect my life and that of other victims/witnesses. I am fearful, and this letter needs to be held, and protected in confidence. This is NOT at this time to be shared with Williams or his attorney's, or as you will see the Pocahontas county prosecutors office, or the Magistrates Court. Already William W. Williams is getting information out of the Magistrates court through the Magistrates unprofessionalism, and violating our privacy and endangering us... Williams has used this successfully to horrify victims/witnesses.

The newly elected judge got over her initial alarm at receiving such a document from my accuser, allowed me to appear telephonically, then did precisely what Corse had told her not to do: She ruled that both the defendant and the prosecutor were to be provided with copies of Corse's outrageous book-length document. Corse was not pleased with the ruling and was shouting at the judge from the gallery to such an extent that the judge ordered her to be quiet, then adjourned the brief "emergency" hearing. Corse's landlord/roommate Bob DeMarais, who had been paying Corse's and Oljaca's attorney to fight me civilly, accompanied her and was reportedly stunned when the Sheriff ordered him to open his briefcase in the courtroom, revealing a tape recorder. Not a good day for the opposition. It will only get worse for Corse and crew once the prosecutor reads her description of him as "senile, corrupt and lazy," among other unkind, untrue remarks. In her rambling screed she tells the judge a bizarre tale of how she and DeMarais stalked the prosecutor and supposedly saw that he takes "daily naps" downstairs in the courthouse, then washes his face afterward in the men's rest room before going upstairs to his office with water "running down his face." No kidding! It's doubtful that the prosecutor will recommend conviction after reading that nonsense. She badmouths the entire Pocahontas County establishment, even stating that the West Virginia State Police and Sheriff's Department work with me against her. The 15 December criminal trial appealing my earlier March conviction for assault should be a riot.

One of the West Virginia magistrates that Corse verbally attacks in her bizarre letter will be the one to hear the civil complaint I filed against Corse on 7 December, requesting the court order her to return items stolen from the National Alliance worth several thousand dollars. If she is ordered to return these items and she does not comply, I will move to have her charged with grand theft — a felony.

The wheels of justice turn slowly, but I'm confident the court's search for truth will finally bring a resolution in our favor, once the judge sees that my accuser is mentally ill and that she and her collaborators are abusing the judicial process.

The same day, 7 December, Corse's employer John McLaughlin's first hearing in his lawsuit against the National Alliance will be heard in the Commonwealth of Virginia. The vexatious NARRG dissidents, whose $2 million civil suit against the Alliance was finally dismissed, are now publicly supporting McLaughlin and Corse in their pathetic coup attempt, using the Virginia courts — as NARRG tried to do for two and a half years and failed. A more thorough report of our recent court victories, including facsimile copies of the court orders dismissing the NARRG suit and Oljaca's suit can be viewed here:

<http://nationalvanguard.org/suits>

The National Alliance is a corporation of over 40 years' standing, well-designed by Dr. Pierce to weather the legal storms that he knew were sure to come. We take care to follow the laws of the various jurisdictions under which we operate. Our organization's current program is based on strict legality. We are not outlaws nor "domestic terrorists" as our enemies and the federal government like to characterize us. Our many adversaries cannot successfully use the courts against us as long as we are careful to conduct our business and political activities above board and legally (which we scrupulously do)—so long as we have the funds and competent attorneys to represent us.

The founder of the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC), Morris Dees, once boasted in the 1980s: "The way to destroy racist groups is to tie them up in court and bankrupt them." In other words, "lawfare." The SPLC, along with a compliant judicial system, got away with doing just that for years. These days, the SPLC also depends on scaring elderly Jewish and homosexual donors and corrupting law enforcement and court officers with their bogus "Hate Map" and slick, free quarterly "Intelligence Report" journal which regularly features our Alliance as a "hate group" in their breathless headlines to keep the dollars flowing. The dozen or so articles in which the SPLC has featured our Alliance during the last couple of years are distributed electronically by them to thousands of media outlets, then picked up and republished by those media unquestioningly. Rarely are we contacted by these media to fact-check the Jewish group's smears.

The fact that unstable creatures like Corse and McLaughlin are the current instruments of this lawfare shows that our enemies have feet of clay.

The slumbering White giant has been awakened to some extent, thanks to our decades-long efforts, to the freedom of the Internet, to the increasingly outrageous and obvious anti-White bias of the controlled media, and to Donald Trump's remarkably successful nationalist/populist campaign. The over-used smears of our enemies like "racist," "hater," "anti-Semite," "homophobe," etc., have lost their effect. More Whites are likely to respond to those buzz words now with, "Yes, I prefer to be with my own people and I don't like Blacks and Jews and queers. So what?"

But neither the Republican Party nor the leaderless, big-tent "alt-right" movement can reverse the disastrous course of our nation.

When there are a sufficient number of Whites who have found their backbones and their voices, our fortunes will improve. It is our job to seek out those awakening Whites and give them what they need: the sound, uncompromising revolutionary National Alliance program that has been so clearly articulated by our founder, Dr. William Pierce.

W. W. W.

*"The plain truth is that only the uncompromising
revolutionary program of the National Alliance for a new White nation on this Earth can save us."*

Kevin Alfred Strom
American Dissident Voices,
November 26, 2016